MR. STANLEY, I PRESUME!

ANDREW BENSON WILSON

Music by John Stanley

An exploration of English 18th-century life through the organ music of John Stanley (1712-1786) - "the best organist in Europe, maybe in the world".

With country house soirees; the hunting horns, shepherd songs and birdsong of the English countryside; the trumpets of military marches; and jovial London pleasure gardens.

Monday 6th October

GREEK GODDESSES

ELENI KEVENTSIDOU & OURANIA GASSIOU in Duet

Music by C.P.E. Bach, Wesley, Beethoven, Alain and Muffat

Monday 3rd November

DAWN

DARIUS BATTIWALLA

Improvised organ accompaniment to the silent film Dawn (1928) - a dramatisation of the life and execution of Edith Cavell, the nurse in WW1 who while based in Belgium helped British PoWs to escape. She was executed by the Germans to much international outrage at the time, and in this film is played by Sybil Thorndike.
